

Woods at Sasan

In the lap of nature in Western India

Woods at Sasan is a premium boutique hotel with a difference. Situated on the edge of the Sasan Gir forest, well-known internationally for being the last natural range of the Asiatic lion, the hotel blurs the divide between outdoors and indoors. Built on a lush mango orchard, the 38-key property is a blend of contemporary spaces that merge quietly into the surrounding greenery. The accommodations at Woods at Sasan are designer living spaces. The Woods Studios are compact and specially designed to connect you with the natural environment; the Woods Pavilions offer stylish design, a private garden and an open-to-sky shower area; and the Woods Villa is the most exclusive residence with a private plunge pool and a dedicated team of hosts.

The property offers a curated variety of culinary experiences – visitors may choose from a traditional Gujarati thali at the Swadesh restaurant, a selection of world cuisines at the Terracotta, wood fired pizzas at the Alfresco, or a variety of beverages by the poolside Mango Bar.

The in-house Som Spa offers a range of wellness treatments and Yoga routines. Select Ayurveda therapies and packages are a new addition, including consultations with a trained Ayurveda Doctor. The property is currently the only one in the region offering Ayurveda therapies.

A host of activities such as nature walks and cycling tours, curated trips to nearby places of interest such as the famed Somnath Temple or the town of Junagadh, and other experiences of the local life of the region of Sasan Gir offer an activity filled holiday. For those looking for a more relaxed offering, the experience of a leisurely stay in the heart of nature as Sasan blossoms in the monsoon, will make for an unforgettable vacation.
